TEXAS RANGERS KEEP TOWN QUIET

Bloody Battle in Hempstead Causes Excitement, But No Trouble Is Feared.

TRAGIC DEATH OF PINCKNEY

Passed Unscathed Through Forty Battles; Shot Down in Time of Peace.

(By Associated Press.)

HEMPSTEAD, TEXAS, April 25 .- As t result of the bloody battle here last night, when four men were killed and others were wounded, Hempstead is tonight under the control of the Texas rangers. Martial law has not been declared, but Adjutant General Hulin arrived to-night with a number of rangers and has assumed charge of affairs. No one is permitted to bear arms and the excitement manifested throughout the day has quieted down to-night.

Rollan Brown, son of one of the mer killed at the prohibition mass meeting last night, was to-day placed under arrest, on a charge of firing the shot which killed Representative John Pinckney. He stated that his father was under the influence of intoxicants when he attended the meeting, and that he (the son) attempted to dissuade him from attending, His father was firm, however, in his in-His father was firm, however, in his intention, and went to the meetins. The son followed and took part in the shooting. It has been established that the trouble began when Rollan Brown attempted to secure recognition to speak at the meeting. It is said that his language, was offensive to several ladies present, and the fusillade began immediately atterward. Congressman Pinckney was shot four was oriensive to several rearrangements and the fusiliade began immediately atterward.

Congressman Pinckney was shot four times and was almost instantly killed. Thomas Pinckney, a brother of the congressman, was shot twice in the back and killed, and Capitain Brown received a builet through the heart. John E. Mills, the remaining victim, took no part in the affair and was killed by a stray builet. The killings are the direct result of a prohibition movement in Waller county, which was begun some years ago, and the feeling has been intense. An election was held in Waller county April 20th, and the prohibitionists, with whom the Pinckneys were affiliated, were successful. The Prohibition Leggue was called together last night to wind up its affairs and distand. A resolution requesting the Governor of Texas to send troops to Waller county for the purpose of enforcing the law against liquor sellers was excitedly debated. It was at this juncture that Capitain H. M. Brown, who figured prominently as an anti-prohibitionist, sought to have the chairman recognize him. To-day it was reported that friends and relatives of the participants in the bloody affray had been asked to come to Hompstead and it was feared that further trouble would result.

To-night, however, cooler counsel has prevailed and the little town is quiet. While no further trouble is anticipated, a number of rangers will remain here to

While no further trouble is anticipated, a number of rangers will remain here to preserve order should the occasion arise.

FRIENDS SHOCKED.

Pinckney Widely Known and Much Esteemed in Washington.

Much Esteemed in Washington.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25.—The death of Representative John McPherson Pinckney, of Texas, in a shooting affray at Hempstead, Texas, yesterday, snocked his friends in this bity. He was a man of deserved popularity. He had all the qualities that make men lovable, and bind friends to them with hooks of steel. He was as brave as a lion, and those who knew him best declare he did not know the meaning of the word fear. He entered the Confederate army when only sixteen years of age, and served through. tered the Confederate army when only sixteen years of age, and served throughout the entire war as a member of Hood's celebrated Texas Brigade. He was in forty great battles, and escaped almost unscathed, to meet his death in a shooting scrape in a time when peace profound was supposed to reign in the land. He loved the cup that cheers. But he knew his weaknesses. He was a prohibitionist. He wished the law to step in and prohibit the placing of whiskey in the way of the weaker brother, who could not resist temptation. He met his death in a struggle over this question. His life, resist temptation. He met his death in a struggle over this question. His life, his principles and his end furnish a theme and possibly an argument, for the advocates of temperance and restriction of the sale of strong drink.
